Crime in the workplace is a major concern for all businesses. It can endanger the welfare of employees and cause business performance issues such as legal liability, turnover and financial loss.

CrimAlert notifies employers of new criminal information on active employees, enabling companies to identify risk, workplace violence and possible public embarrassment through negative publicity.

HOW CRIMALERT WORKS

Once you've selected to participate in the CrimAlert program and ordered your first Nationwide Criminal Database search on a current employee, PlusOne will automatically conduct nationwide criminal background searches every month using the employee data that you provided. If criminal records are found, a new report is generated and you are notified via email.
